The principle of sea water:

01

Due to its mineral richness, sea water has antibacterial and antiseptic effects. The jet of sea water during its application cleanses the mucous membrane of any impurities, microorganisms, secretions, or pollen that cause an allergic reaction.

02

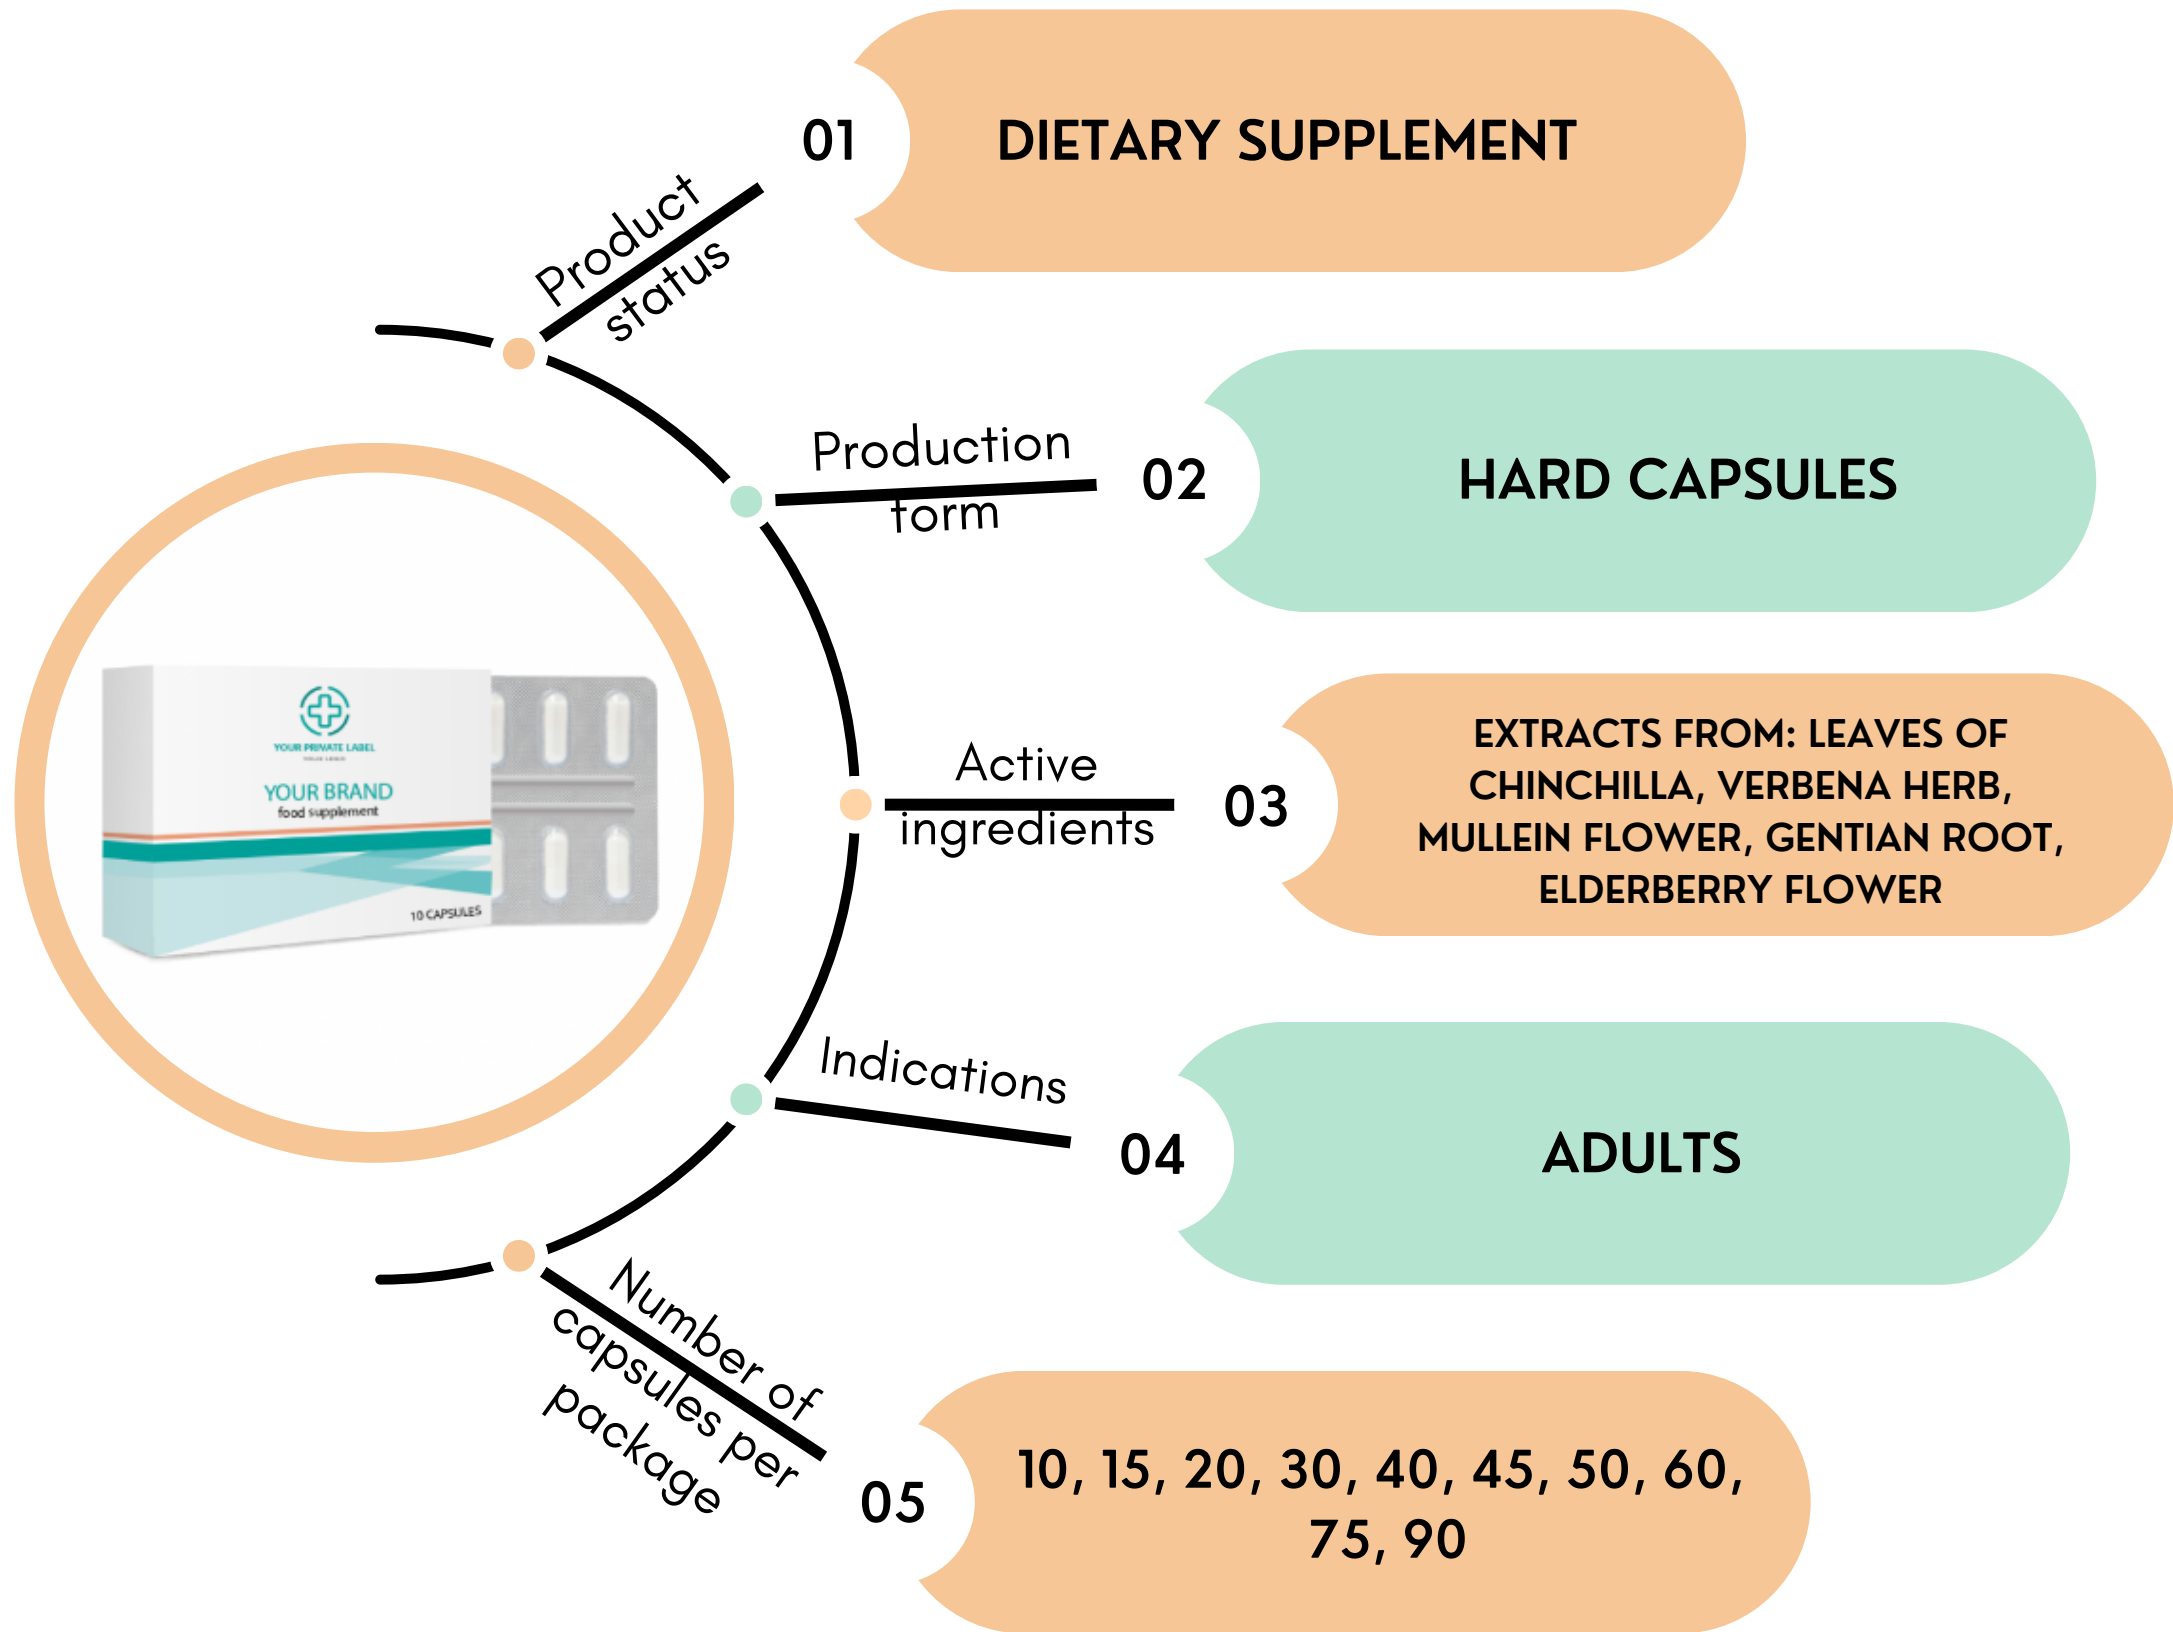

Nasal sea water also has a moisturizing effect, which protects the mucous membrane from irritation.

03

In the case of allergic rhinitis, a stream of sea water flushes out all the pollen and other impurities in the nose that could potentially be allergens. Thus, rinsing the nose reduces the risk of rhinitis symptoms.
